

Francesca Spigarelli had a presentation on "Europe-China relations in the renewable energy sector", at the Working Group 'Europe-China Relations'-Focus Group Workshop, 17 April 2015. The Hertie School of Governance and the London School of Economics and Political Science (LSE) invited Francesca Spigarelli to attend a selective, high level focus group workshop on Europe-China Energy Relations: Tensions. Chances. Perspectives. The meeting took place on Friday, 17 April 2015, 13:00-16:00 at Hertie School of Governance, Friedrichstraße 180, 10117 Berlin.

The event is an initiative of the Dahrendorf working group 'Europe-China Relations' and has the purpose of bringing together a small group of exceptional experts and decision-makers from academia, politics and the business sector. The Working Group thereby seek to identify and discuss the most urgent challenges in Europe-China energy relations in dimensions such as infrastructure, investment, M&A, policies and security, as well as to chart solutions for future cooperation.